About HHPR & Our Mission

Hidden Hollow Pony Rescue is a subsidiary of The Hogohegee Indian Community Center, a 501c3 non-profit educational organization. EIN # 63-1237402. In 2000, The Hogohegee Indian Community Center was on the road, teaching Native classes, including how horses came to the USA. Driving from class to class across the south, students would point out horses and ponies that didn't look like their well-fed, cared-for equines at home. From this, the Hidden Hollow Pony Rescue was created as a subsidiary to help save as many of those horses and ponies as possible from abuse, neglect, and absentee owners.

Elders and youth worked together to speak with horse owners to see if they could help bring the owner's horse back to good health. When this was impossible, the animal was sometimes surrendered, and a sanctuary was established in the Bankhead National Forest of North Alabama to take in and care for these desolate animals in desperate need of a farrier, veterinarian, special diets, and other related services.

Today, Hidden Hollow Pony Rescue is both an equine rescue and an equine sanctuary. It finds homes for rehabilitated horses and ponies and provides a loving forever home for those with conditions that make them unadoptable.

About Sponsorship

Our sponsor, Mr. Johnson of Johnson's Farm (for feed, farrier, & veterinarian) died in June 2021 of COVID-19, and then Mrs. Macklemore, who provided our hay, died in November 2021 of COVID. We have been running on donations from our board members and small gifts from the local community; however, we are looking for a full-time sponsor to cover our annual operating budget; in the form of yearly or monthly grants. HHPR is an accredited 501c3 and all donations are tax-deductible according to IRS rules. Donations can be made at our website through PayPal or by company check to our address for IRS verification.

Our sponsor's name will be featured on our website, our Facebook page, a plaque at our barn, and a banner at local teaching events, fairs, and all fundraisers for special projects.
